

Wait 'till the Sun Shines, Nellie

Lyrics by Andrew B. Sterling, Music by Harry von Tilzer, 1905

Soprano

Baritone

C^7
On a Sunday Morn, sat a maid forlorn

F B^b F
With her sweetheart by her side.

C^7
Through the window pane, she looked at the rain,

B^b F
"We must stay home Joe," she cried;

C^7
There's a picnic too, at the Old Point View.

F B^b
It's a shame it rained today.

$B^b m$ F D^7
Then the boy drew near, kissed away each tear,

G^7 C^7 C^+
And she heard him softly say,

F F^7 B^b F
Wait 'till the sun shines Nellie

C^7 F B^b F^7
When the clouds go drifting by.

B^b $B^b m$ F G^7 C^7 C^+
We will be happy Nellie, don't you sigh;

F F^7 B^b F C^7 A^7
Down lover's lane we'll wander, Sweetheart you and I;

D^7 G^7 C^6 C^7 F
Wait 'till the sun shines Nellie, bye and bye!

C^7
"How I long," she sighed, "for a trolley ride

F B^b F
Just to show my brand new gown."

C^7
Then she gazed on high with a gladsome cry,

B^b F
For the sun came shining down.

C^7
And she looked so sweet on the big front seat,

F B^b
As the car sped on its way.

$B^b m$ F D^7
And she whispered low, "Say you're all right Joe,

G^7 C^7 C^+
You just won my heart today."
